NEWS OF FARM AND RANGE

Clears $616 on Carload of Hogs.—Clinton Bennett, a farmer living about a mile north of Riverview, Wash., has conducted an experiment in the growing of hogs on his dry farm. When he shipped a car of 88 live porkers last week to Spokane it was the first carload shipped by any single farmer from this county.

The hogs were bought a few months ago for $952, and during the growing and fattening time Mr. Bennett kept a strict account of the cost.

He fed whole and rolled wheat and barley, buttermilk from the local creamery, bran, mill feed, shorts and alfalfa. After paying all expenses, including the freight to Spokane, there was a net profit of $616.

The work in caring for the hogs was done at a time when there was no loss from other work.

Mr. Bennett has his farm fenced with hog wire and will fatten the animals in grain fields after the harvest, thus getting the benefit of the lodged heads and grain that would be lost.

Poison in Wenaha Reserve.—During the past year, the rangers in the Wenaha forest reserve have been gathering specimens of the various grains, grasses, etc., that grow on the mountains, and succeeded in obtaining hundreds of specimens which were pressed and forwarded to the bureau of plant industry in Washington, D. C., where they are to be labeled and their food properties determined to some extent.

The annual report of Supervisor J. M. Schmitt, just issued, shows the real reason why this work has been undertaken. During the last season 200 head of horses and cattle and 802 head of sheep are reported killed in the reserve, either by accident or sickness, and it is known that some of the loss was caused by poisonous plants eaten by the animals. When the rangers have secured a specimen of every plant growing in the forest and the poisonous ones have been designated by the experts, some systematic plan of their eradication may be commenced by the forest bureau, for the protection of the stockmen that use the reserve for summer pastures.

Chickens for Hay?—That common Russian thistle may be used for hay, is the opinion of E. J. Hunt, of Benge, Wash. Mr. Hunt says that when the thistles are cut green and cured with other hay stock will eat them with relish. Next year he will experiment by cutting patches of them in various stages, and noting later the feeding qualities of the hay.

Teaching People To Save Money

At a recent meeting of bankers one of the speakers told them that it was the duty of the banks and trust companies to advertise in the newspapers.

Aside from the fact that it would increase their business it was a service they owed the public.

In some of the cities the financial institutions have embarked on co-operative campaigns, the object of which is to teach the people the uses of these institutions and what they do for the public.

Not one woman in a hundred could tell you off hand just wherein the functions of a bank differ from those of a trust company.

Yet there are many features about a trust company's service for which the women of average means would be glad to pay.

Campaigns in the newspapers to induce people to save money have been carried on with great success in many cities.

The uses of advertising are as varied as the hues of the spectrum.

ENGINEERS WORKING HERE ON ROAD EXTENSION PLANS

MANY LINE CHANGES POSSIBLE
BY O.-W. R. & N. EAST OF PENDLETON.

Despite the fact doubt has been expressed that the Pilot Rock branch will be extended to Ukiah this summer engineers are still at work perfecting the survey for that extension and events may yet take such a turn that construction work may be undertaken before many months.

The crew which ran the survey for the Pilot Rock extension has been working on line changes at Cayuse and elsewhere since they came from the south of the county and the work of completing the Pilot Rock work is being carried on here.

In addition to surveying for the line changes to eliminate the Cayuse hill, the surveying crew has been running lines for a possible change of track just above Pendleton. The purpose in view is to eliminate the grade just east of St. Anthony's hospital. It is reported that one plan calls for having all main line trains enter Pendleton from the east over the Spokane division, the main line track joining with the Washington division track just east of the upper railroad bridge. Another view is that a larger loop may be made and the connection be made further up Wild Horse.

No authoritative statements on the subject have been made and Roadmaster Buhner who has been here today declared he could throw no light on the subject.

Will Start Store.

Turley spoke on "Psycho-therapy," and Dr. Reber read a paper on "The Opposite of Psycho-therapy."

Union Bridegroom is Forced to Eat Nonunion Pastry in Ireland.
DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—The recent arrival of a wedding cake under police escort in a suburban district of Dublin caused immense amusement.

This was not a joke. The cake had been ordered from a firm affected by the Dublin dispute and was conveyed in a van to the bride's house with the usual police escort. The embarrassing part of the incident was that the bridegroom was a staunch trade unionist.

The true-blue trade union policy in Ireland under such circumstances would be to refuse to handle goods, declare a sympathetic strike, to picket the premises, and denounce all who do not subscribe to their policy.

The bridegroom had, therefore, a delicate position to face. As a trade unionist, he should have boycotted the cake, refused to get married, and denounced the bride.

But he didn't. He married the girl and ate of the cake—which was "tainted goods."

Trade unionists refrained from picketing the church.

HUNT FOR MATE MAY END.

Fernvale, Ore., Woman Asks Address of Lonely Idaho Miner.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Jan. 7.—Enoch Shepperd, the Burke, Idaho, miner whose plaintive plea for a second-hand woman as a companion was published recently, has not sought in vain.

The Walla Walla editor who first received Shepperd's communication has received a letter from a Fernvale, Ore., woman saying she wants his address. She says she will try her best to meet the qualifications. She does not say whether she is a crank or a flirt, against whom Shepperd draws the bars. She signs her name as "Mrs."

BULL MOOSE SEE

HOT FIGHT AHEAD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Representative Finebaugh of Illinois, chairman of the progressive congressional committee, issued a statement giving excerpts from reports from national committeemen and state chairmen and announcing that "our chances for a red hot fight in the coming campaign are exceedingly bright." He claimed an even chance of winning Maine next fall; the possible election of a progressive successor to the late Representative Pepper of Iowa, democrat, through organization in Illinois with progressive state, county and congressional tickets.

Ex-Outlaw is Candidate.
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Al Jennings a former outlaw, announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for Governor of Oklahoma.

BLUE MOUNTAIN LEAGUE MAY BE REVIVED WITH PENDLETON AMONG TEAMS

Preliminary negotiations for the revival of the old Blue Mountain league with Pendleton represented in it instead of in the Western Tri-state league have been begun by the Pilot Rock Commercial club and last night the proposal was formally made to the Pendleton Commercial association in a letter from E. B. Casteel, president of the Pilot Rock organization. While the local association took no action, the sentiment of the business men present seemed very favorable to the suggestion.

In his letter, Mr. Casteel expresses the belief that, after two years in professional ball, Pendleton is ready to drop back into a county league for Sunday ball and with amateur players. He declares the old Blue Mountain league as it existed in 1910 was a paying proposition and aroused much enthusiasm. He proposes that the league be composed of teams from Pendleton, Pilot Rock, Athena and Weston.

F. E. Judd, J. F. Robinson and A. J. McAllister all spoke in favor of the idea, declaring they were tired of a league in which they were compelled to subscribe and then re-subscribe several times and in which the money was spent for out of town players. Also they declared their belief that it is much better for the city to be united in a league with other county towns.

President Wesley N. Matlock of the Pendleton ball club, while not prepared to endorse the idea or admit that the city could not retain its berth in the Western Tri-state, did concur in many of the expressions of those present. However, he stated that it is too early now to talk baseball and, at his suggestion, nothing was done.

The meeting last evening was largely taken up with the reading of communications but before adjournment it was decided that members of the association who were actively engaged in business in the city should pay $2.50 a month, $1.00 being for dues and $1.50 as a subscription toward keeping up the club. It was left to the membership committee to determine the business houses that should contribute.

R. R. May Improve.
Replying to a communication from President Tallman, William Bolles, division superintendent of the O.-W. R. & N., wrote that he would be here soon to confer upon the matter of improving the county road in the eastern end of the city, which runs along the railroad right-of-way. There was some discussion last night as to whether the present track would be maintained in case the company adopts a survey now being made through Riverside and supposed to be for the purpose of eliminating the steep grade just east of the city and also several dangerous crossings. It is believed that the company contemplates running its main line trains over the Spokane division bridge and then routing them through Riverside to connect with the present main line again near the Sam Blitzer place. If this is done, the present track may be cut out where it runs along the county road east of the hospital.

The association last night voted to have printed upon its stationery the slogan, "Buy Your Ticket by Way of Oregon," at the suggestion of C. C. Chapman of Portland.

Communications from Tom Richardson relative to his visit to this county this week in the interests of Oregon development, were read and president Tallman announced he had made all arrangements for meetings.

John P. McManus was voted a non-resident membership for a year.

The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $18.98 with the monthly collections yet to be paid.

It was announced that the cattle-men's association is to meet here on the third Tuesday in March.

A communication from B. Ward King, an advocate of the split-log drag for the making of good roads, stating that he would be here about March 20, was read.

At the suggestion of A. J. McAllister, the chauntauqua committee was instructed to see that the notification of the dates of the first Pendleton chauntauqua is made through the medium of the county schools.

A communication from the Astoria Chamber of Commerce asking local assistance for the establishing of a naval station on the Columbia was read and a number of other communications from Commercial clubs over the state were listened to.

ant, Isaac Brown, flatly contradicted the testimony of Eli Cohen and the defendant were on terms of the utmost intimacy.

"I haven't spoken to Cohen in a year," insisted Brown.

"Now, look here," thundered the plaintiff's attorney. "Is it not a fact that only two weeks ago you and Mr. Cohen were playing pinocle?"

"Sure we were," said Brown.

"And yet," shouted the attorney triumphantly, "you say you and Cohen have not spoken in a year?"

"Well, you don't have to be on speaking terms with a man to play pinocle with him," retorted the witness.

The bank declined to reinstate the man at the request of the labor unions and also refused to give acceptable guarantees that its employees should have the right of association.
